

U.S. ARMY CORPS OF ENGINEERS

Colonel
Michael J. Teague
Tulsa District Commander

Colonel Michael J. Teague received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Civil Engineering from Norwich University and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Corps of Engineers in 1985.

Upon completion of the Officer Basic Course, he served in Bravo Company, 10th Engineer Battalion, 3rd Infantry Division, in Bad Kissingen, Germany, as a Line Platoon Leader, Assault and Barrier Platoon Leader, and Executive Officer (XO). After attending the Officer Advanced Course, he served with the 19th Engineer Battalion, 194th Separate Armor Brigade at Fort Knox, Kentucky, before assuming command of the 13th Engineer Company (Construction Support) in 1990. During the two years he commanded the 13th Engineer Company, they deployed to construction missions in Honduras and Saudi Arabia, as well as forest firefighting in Tennessee.

From 1992 to 1994, Colonel Teague attended the Naval Postgraduate and received a Master of Science Degree in Operations Analysis. He completed assignments as a Combat Analyst with the TRADOC Analysis Center at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and as a Personnel Analyst with the OPMS XXI Task Force at PERSCOM. After serving as the Executive Officer, Directorate of Civil Works for Headquarters, US Army Corps of Engineers, he attended Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth.

Following Staff College, he was assigned to Fort Carson, Colorado, where he served as the S3 and XO of the 4th Engineer Battalion, 3rd Brigade Combat Team, 4th Infantry Division. After assignments as the Force Engineer (South), Multinational Forces and Observers, Sinai, Egypt, and as the Chief of Current Operations, US Army Space Command at Peterson Air Force Base in Colorado Springs, he returned to Fort Carson.

On July 8, 2003, Colonel Teague assumed command of the 52nd Engineer Battalion (Combat Heavy) in Mosul, Iraq. The Battalion conducted construction, civil-military, and combat operations in support of the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault) as part of Operation Iraqi Freedom. The Battalion redeployed in February 2004. After command, he served as the Army Engineer for North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD) and US Northern Command and as the Deputy Executive Officer to the Combatant Commander. After this joint assignment, he attended the Naval War College where he earned a Master of Science degree in National Security and Strategic Studies. Before taking command of the Tulsa District, he was the Third Army/US Army Central Engineer responsible for Army construction throughout the Middle East and central Asian states.

His awards and decorations include the Defense Superior Service Medal, the Bronze Star Medal, the Meritorious Service Medal, the Army Commendation Medal, the Army Achievement Medal, the Global War on Terrorism and the Global War on Terrorism Expeditionary Medals, the Iraqi Campaign Medal, the Southwest Asia Service Medal, the Kuwaiti Liberation Medal and the Combat Action and Parachutist Badges.

BUILDING STRONG®

U.S. ARMY CORPS OF ENGINEERS – HEADQUARTERS

www.usace.army.mil